

In celebration of Canada's Sesquicentennial

The David Asper Centre for Constitutional Rights is pleased to announce its

2017 Asper Centre Constitutional Roundtable series

Focused on Canada's 150th anniversary of confederation and the development of Canada's constitutional and human rights from the British North America Act to the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, the series will include papers that provide an analysis of constitutional litigation throughout Canada's history with a focus on seminal cases that have made an impact on the Canadian constitutional rights landscape.

2017 Winter term Constitutional Roundtable Schedule*

Date	Venue	Speaker and Topic
February 9 Thursday 12:30 - 2:00	Room J140 Jackman Law Bldg 78 Queen's Park	Hugo Cyr , Université du Québec à Montréal Normalizing the Exception in Canada
March 1 Wednesday 12:30 - 2:00	Room J140 Jackman Law Bldg 78 Queen's Park	Richard Haigh , York University Osgoode Hall Law School The Alberta Press Case
March 22 Wednesday 12:30 - 2:00	Solarium (Room FA2) Falconer Hall 84 Queen's Park	Jamie Cameron , York University Osgoode Hall Law School Section 7 and the Idea of the Charter

Please visit www.aspercentre.ca for more information about our 2017 Constitutional Roundtable Series.

* The Fall 2017 schedule of Roundtables in this series will be announced soon!

David Asper Centre for Constitutional Rights
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO